What do we do?

We are volunteers who support the Royal New Zealand Ballet by:

- Increasing the appreciation of ballet through newsletters, talks and demonstrations.
- Encouraging more people to attend ballet through advance seminars and forums
- Helping young dancers through the introduction of the Young Friends programme launched in 2003.
- Helping young dancers through Master Classes where students are taught by the RNZB artistic staff.
- Raising money for the RNZB with specific projects and a variety of interesting and innovative events.

Helping to keep the dancers on their toes

Show your support and pride in your national ballet company by joining the Friends of the Royal New Zealand Ballet. Your practical and financial support helps your company make dance accessible to New Zealanders.

Imagine if you bought a new pair of shoes every Monday and had to throw them out by Sunday because they were worn through. Each year the Royal New Zealand Ballet buys over a thousand pairs of pointe shoes, all of which have to be imported at considerable cost.

The Friends of the RNZB has been raising funds to buy the dancers shoes for many years.
